No doubt, you’ve all heard the song . . . Rocky Mountain High, by John Denver. It’s a classic . . . just the name seems to inspire the hum, complete with octave change on the “High” right at the end. So are you ready to go? We hope so, as SNIS takes to the mountains for the 11th Annual Meeting and Fellows Course, July 28-August 1. From the grounds of the luxurious Broadmoor in beautiful Colorado Springs, we promise you’ll have every reason to sing. Trust us. The SNIS membership is of one accord when they affirm that the last annual meeting at the Broadmoor, in 2011, was one of the best in our annual meeting portfolio.

This year promises to be no different. There atop the mountains, we’ll gather with colleagues and our industry friends for a forum that is high on education and information and low on stress. For four glorious days, we welcome you to this sky top paradise to lend your voice to the dialogue around the latest research and scientific findings in neurointervention; the full spectrum of endovascular conditions and treatments; and controversial topics sure to elicit diverse opinions meant to inspire lively discussion.

A sneak peek of the agenda reveals some much anticipated discussion on the Science of IA Stroke Intervention and Expanding Treatment Paradigms in Neurointervention. Additionally, attendees will learn more about New Prospective Randomized Data on Clipping vs. Coiling Ruptured Aneurysms, as well as explore Modern Aneurysm Treatment: Which Treatments When (and When Not). These and many other sessions will be dotted with abstracts presented by representatives of some of the most renowned neurointerventional research centers in the world.

Every year, two of the most anticipated highlights of the week are the Luminary Lecture and the Keynote Speech. This year, we are pleased to announce that two esteemed individuals will be filling those slots, with Randy Higashida, long-time SNIS member and past president (2002-2003), at the podium for the Lecture and Deborah Duncan, TV personality and aneurysm survivor, sharing her experiences and thoughts as Guest Speaker.

But not all the fun is indoors! The famed Golf Tournament will take place on Tuesday, July 29, challenging golf novices and veterans alike to try their swing on this memorable course. And for the second year in a row, the SNIS Foundation will host the Run for Research 5k and a one-mile Fun Run. All funds generated will go toward research and education.

As we seek to advance our specialty with solid science, innovative approaches and a commitment to prove our worth on an international stage, we need the same collaboration and spirit that inspired the pioneers of our field to step forward in certainty that theirs were ideals worth realizing. Our deepest thanks to the many who stand beside us in that commitment and quest every day . . . to our loyal industry friends who help make dreams reality with the innovations that allow us to do our jobs well, and to you for your individual roles in showcasing what is possible every day by achieving the highest standards of excellence in practice and patient care.

See you in Colorado!

Sincerely,

Richard Klucznik, MD

About The Broadmoor Hotel

When Spencer and Julie Penrose opened their grand resort at the gateway to the Colorado Rocky Mountains in 1918, the master plan was to create a place where European elegance met Western hospitality in the perfect blend of style and service excellence. More than nine decades later, their vision is intact and their dream is still alive.

Today, this spectacular resort boasts three championship golf courses. The Broadmoor’s historic East Course – home of the 2008 US Senior Open and the 2011 US Women’s Open – and the traditional West Course were a collaboration of designs by Donald Ross and Robert Trent Jones Sr. Both East and West offer scenic and challenging play for golfers of all handicaps. The Mountain Course, by Nicklaus Design, has an additional 18 challenging holes and exquisite panoramic views.

The 43,000 square foot Forbes/Mobil Travel Guide Five Star (2013) Spa, Salon and Fitness Center features luxurious, exotic and essential experiences for the body, mind and spirit. The Spa offers cutting-edge products and treatments in a delightful and harmonious contrast to its back-drop of old-world charm and European elegance.

Eighteen restaurants, cafes and lounges make dining at The Broadmoor an unforgettable experience. Consistent winners of the prestigious DiRONA and Wine Spectator awards, Summit – The Broadmoor’s Adam D. Tihany designed restaurant– has garnered The Robb Report’s Best of the Best award and Esquire’s Best New Design and 20 Best New Restaurants honors. Finally, Colorado’s first and only Forbes/Mobil Travel Guide Five Star and AAA Five-Diamond restaurant, Penrose Room, continues its reign as one of the Rocky Mountain region’s top destinations for fine classic-style dining in a stylish atmosphere.

Newly opening and located in Broadmoor West, Play at The Broadmoor’s “luxury retro” styling and eclectic bowling menu has something for everyone. Among an atmosphere of sophisticated fun, Chef David Patterson serves up fresh, diverse snacks suited for every palate and inspired by his experience from around the globe. Six lanes of bowling and a game room take Play at The Broadmoor to the next level for both kids and adults alike.

For years, The Broadmoor been recognized with numerous prestigious awards including Mobil Five-Star (50 years in 2010), AAA Five-Diamond (34 years in 2010), Condé Nast Traveler – Gold List; Zagat Survey Exceptional Rating, American Express Departures Magazine Readers’ Favorite Award and Travel & Leisure Top 500 Hotels in the World. Our meetings facilities have also been honored with C & I Travel – Award of Excellence, C & I Travel – Paragon Award and C & I World Class Award – Insurance Meetings. “Grande Dame of the Rockies” continues to stand in the forefront of world-class facilities, amenities and service, combining state-of-the-art comfort and convenience with an elegant and luxurious charm one could only find in a classic international resort.
FEATURED SPEAKER — DEBORAH DUNCAN

When you look at how Deborah Duncan grew up, it is no surprise that she ended up in the communication business. Raised in a military family, her early years were spent in Taiwan and Japan. As her family constantly moved around, young Deborah attended five different elementary schools. At each school, determined to learn everything about her “new friends,” Deborah honed her interviewing skills. She completed grade school in San Antonio where her father retired. Deborah then enrolled at the University of Texas in Austin and earned a degree in Radio-Television-Film.

After a couple of years in radio, Deborah made the switch to television as a reporter at the CBS station in Austin and then became an anchor at the ABC station. She later moved to Dallas, where she started a talk show called “Good Morning Texas” at WFAA-TV, the sister station of KHOU-TV. Deborah and her co-host were eventually asked to anchor the morning news.

After three years, Deborah moved to New York City to co-host a talk show for Lifetime Television called “Our Home.” Although she loved New York City, her heart was still in Texas. When ABC executives approached Deborah about doing a talk show for possible national syndication, they wanted her to do the show out of New York or Los Angeles. Eventually, they agreed that it could start in Houston. When she finished her contract with ABC, Deborah decided it was time to return to her roots in the business, and that was news.

In December 2002, Deborah joined KHOU-TV Channel 11 as an anchor on 11 News This Morning. After six years at the news desk, she returned to the talk show format as host of Great Day Houston. The show, produced locally by KHOU-TV, airs weekdays at 9:00 a.m. on Channel 11.

Deborah Duncan is the recipient of many local and national awards for television excellence, including two Emmy Awards, two Gracie Allen Awards and a Telly Award, amongst other honors. Her achievements on the air, however, are transcended by her commitment and dedication to community service. Deborah is passionate about many causes and chairs numerous community events. In addition, she serves on the National Board of Directors for Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and is a Board Member for the Palmer Drug Abuse Program (PDAP). An aneurysm survivor, Ms. Duncan will emcee the Joe Niekro Foundation’s 5th Annual KnuckleBall on September 20 in Houston.

LUMINARY LECTURE – RANDALL HIGASHIDA, MD

Randall Higashida, MD is Clinical Professor of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging, Neurological Surgery, Neurology, and Anesthesiology at the University of California at San Francisco Medical Center. He is Chief of the Division of Interventional Neurovascular Radiology, one of the leading institutions specializing in the minimally invasive treatment of complex cerebrovascular diseases and stroke.

Dr. Higashida has published over 310 scientific articles on stroke and cerebrovascular diseases and authored over 110 book chapters and 4 textbooks. He has served on 10 scientific editorial boards and for 9 additional journals as a manuscript reviewer. He has presented at over 750 scientific and professional meetings around the world.

Dr. Higashida has served as a member of numerous medical and scientific committees including the Cerebrovascular Neurosurgery Task Force Committee, the American Heart Association Stroke Council Research Committee, the American Society of Neuroradiology Executive Committee, and the Society of Neuro-Interventional Surgery Executive Committee. He is past president of the Society of NeuroInterventional Surgery, past chairman of the American Heart Association Council on Cardiovascular Radiology & Interventions, a member of the U.S. FDA Neurological Devices Advisory Panel, and was on the oversight committee of the National Institutes of Health CREST trial for carotid artery stenting.

It was a distinct privilege to train in Interventional Neuroradiology at UCSF with Dr. Higashida. Consummate physicians and endovascular technicians, Drs. Higashida, Halbach, and Dowd provided an outstanding learning environment. From the moment I arrived in San Francisco, I was on the steep part of the learning curve for two years. I am continually grateful for the knowledge, wisdom, and experience they imparted to their fellows, and for the contributions they continue to make to the Neurosciences and our specialty. It is an honor to have Dr. Higashida as our 2014 Luminary Lecturer.

Children’s Activities

Get ‘Buzzy’ With The Bee Bunch In Their Hive!

There is no better way to spend a vacation at The Broadmoor than getting “buzzy” with the Bee Bunch! The “hive” has recently been renovated and includes 2,000-square-feet of room for children to enjoy activities, games, crafts and much more.

The warm design of the Bee Bunch room includes track lighting on curved soffits winding throughout the space, replicating the path of a bee in flight. Integrated within the track lighting are decorative bee, ladybug, firefly and dragonfly pendant lights that are sure to catch the eye. Waves of subtle scarlet, blue, and honey flow across the ceiling.

The 2,000-square-foot space is set up in zones to accommodate different age groups and activities. Table and chairs, in child and toddler sizes, are perfect for all ages and play host to board games and exciting craft activities. In another part of the room, interactive game tables await eager campers.

A kitchen, with slate countertops, a stainless steel refrigerator, microwave, and double sink, allow the children to try out their cooking skills during culinary classes, as well as where the staff prepares snacks and small meals.

Bee Bunch counselors have a wide variety of age-appropriate activities planned for children ages 3-12. The staffing ratio is 1 counselor for every 5 campers. In order to provide the highest quality program, advanced reservations are requested. Please contact the Children’s Concierge for more information about the Bee Bunch program at 866-334-3712 or visit www.broadmoor.com.

The Spa offers cutting-edge products and treatments in a delightful and harmonious contrast to its back-drop of old-world charm and European elegance.
NEW THIS YEAR!

SNIS is offering an innovative program for our non-physician colleagues. Just as our radiology technologists, nurses and allied health professionals are integral parts of our practices, we believe that these key individuals also should be integrated into our academic endeavors. We are excited and proud to present a day of parallel programming designed specifically to help our non-physician colleagues meet the unique challenges they face when working as part of an interventional team.

<td>Keynote Speaker: Dom Testa</td>
<td>Sponsored by RIA Neurovascular Dom Testa is an award-winning author, speaker, and broadcaster. For more than twenty years he has captained the morning radio show on Denver’s Mix100. With an audience of nearly a quarter-million people per day, the Dom and Jane Show is a three-time winner of the award for Best Morning Show, presented by the Colorado Broadcasters Association. Dom’s passion for writing and literacy programs led him to work with students, and to the creation of his foundation, The Big Brain Club. What began with writing workshops and assemblies has grown into a national online community, a powerful in-school program that helps publish teenage authors, and a year-round schedule of professional presentations to student bodies and educators alike. Dom Testa continues to live in – and love – Colorado, where he leads an active outdoor lifestyle and is active in the community. He has a grown son, and a Ficus tree that’s been with him for more than 23 years.</td>
